

Puerto Rico Views on Status & The Political Parties

Results from a poll of 800 voters in Puerto Rico, conducted from August 23-28, 2025.

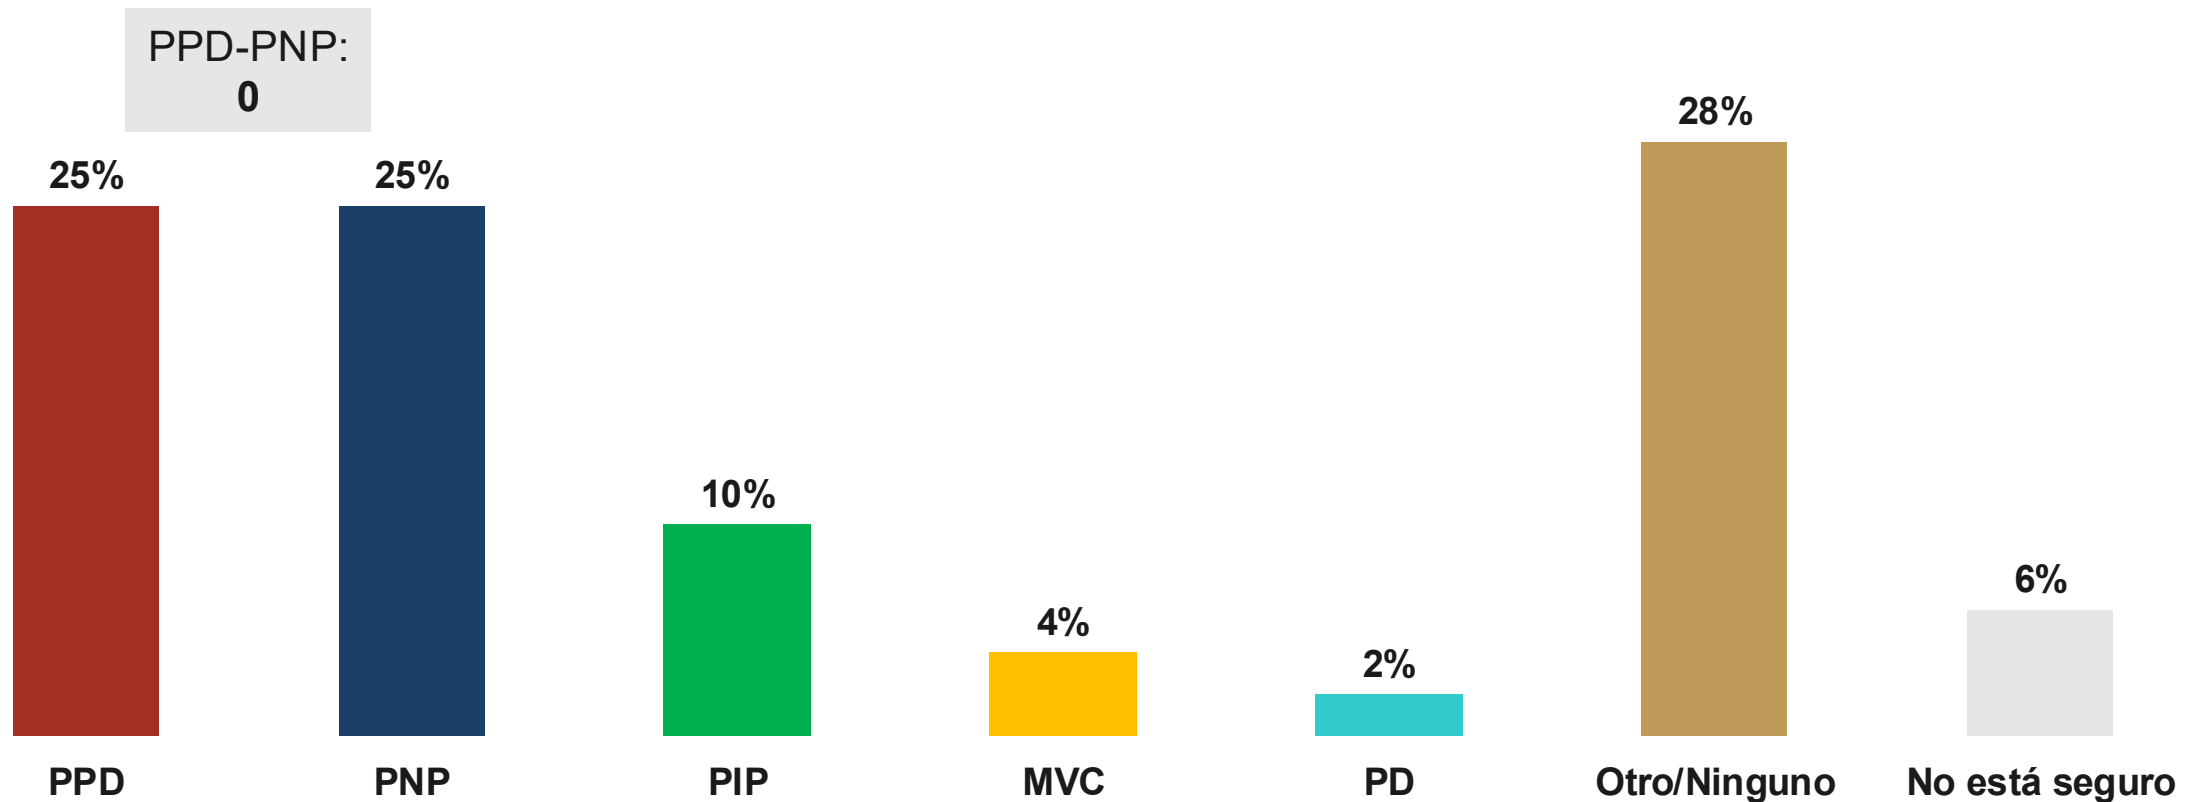

Puerto Ricans have positive feelings toward Pablo José Hernández Rivera and the Democratic Party, and are negative to Juan Dalmau. Views toward Jennifer González, Trump, and the GOP are very negative.

How do you feel about each of the following groups or people?

Party identification is split evenly between the PPD and the PNP.

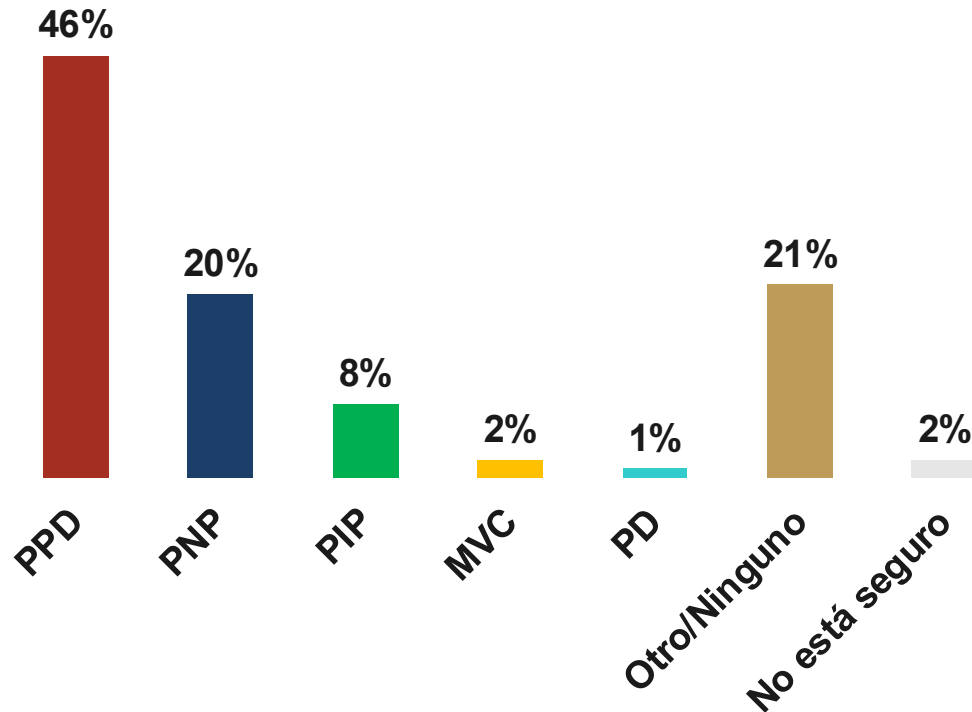

Pensando en los partidos políticos en Puerto Rico, ¿en general usted se considera un seguidor del Partido Popular Democrático, Partido Nuevo Progresista, Partido Independentista Puertorriqueño, Movimiento Victoria Ciudadana, Proyecto Dignidad? (Thinking about the political parties in Puerto Rico, in general do you consider yourself a follower of the....)

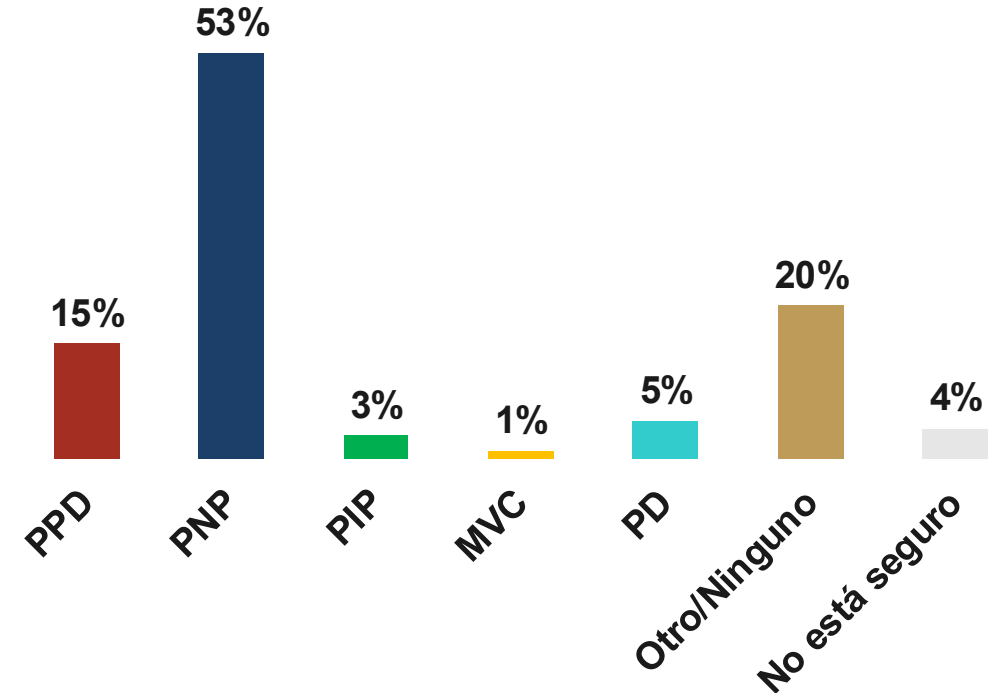

Among those with positive feelings toward the Democratic Party, nearly half identify as PPDers, while a majority of those with positive feelings toward the Republican Party identify as PNPer.

Thinking about the political parties in Puerto Rico, in general do you consider yourself a follower of the....

Party ID Among Democratic Supporters*

Party ID Among Republican Supporters*

* Among the 30% of voters with positive feelings toward the Democratic Party.

* Among the 17% of voters with positive feelings toward the Republican Party.

Support for Commonwealth is high among voters who have positive feelings toward the Democratic Party.

Quando se trata del estatus de Puerto Rico, ¿cuál de las siguientes opciones prefiere? (When it comes to the status of Puerto Rico, which of the following options do you prefer?)

 Among the 30% of voters with positive feelings toward the Democratic Party.*

Majorities of Puerto Ricans believe that Commonwealth is a viable status and that Statehood and Independence are not. Pro-Commonwealth views are even stronger among Democratic supporters.

